

Think Your Way To Riches

Kids' Style

Teach your child the secret to manifesting their dreams while they still believe in them.

As copies of “The Secret” make their way into homes around the world, adults are discovering the power within, a power that most of us used as children, when we believed we could have anything. Lemonade stands would bring us enough money to buy all the dolls we dreamed of and the old oak trees in the backyard were actually private castles. And there was no one that could convince us otherwise.

There is no better time than childhood for parents to encourage their children’s dreams. Now, in “Think Your Way To Riches – Kids Style”, Carrie Carter offers a workbook that families can use together, to help their children plant the seeds of abundance and manifest the life they want at a very young age.

With special sections where children can write or draw their wishes and dreams, Carter helps children envision their minds as magic lamps where the powerful “Genie of Thought” lives, helping them to understand how the power of desire can make their wishes come true.

Step by step, children learn how believing in those wishes and having faith that they’ll come true can bring their dreams to life. Simple exercises throughout “Think Your Way to Riches – Kids Style” offer children the magic keys that will help them gain the knowledge they need and the self-confidence to keep going. Carter even teaches children how to build “Master Mind” groups with their friends, a support system that will help them achieve their dreams – whether it’s getting good grades, owning a ranch full of ponies, becoming a doctor when they grow up, or finding ways to make money to pay for college.

“Its choice NOT chance that makes our destiny”, Carter says. “Think Your Way To Riches - Kids Style” gives the children of the world the tools and thinking process to create a more positive world for ALL of us.”

Carrie Carter has helped thousands of people learn how to use their intuitive side to manifest their greatest desires. Through her workshops, personal coaching and writing, Carter shares universal laws of abundance to shift people’s thinking and change their habits to help them get rid of blocks, heal past pain, move through grief and attract abundance in their lives. She is the author of four books and numerous CDs and maintains her counseling practice in Fenton, Michigan.

For more information or to arrange an interview with Carrie Carter at 810.252.2281 email: carrie114cr@aol.com or visit: www.ThinkYourWaytoRichesKidsStyle.com